

Call for Papers

2006 International Symposium on Technology and Society (ISTAS`06)

Disaster Preparedness and Recovery

June 8-10, 2006

Queens College, City University of New York
Flushing (New York City), NY, U.S.A

Sponsored by IEEE Society on Social Implications of Technology

Conference topics include those related to our theme as well as other concerns of the Society:

- Social, economic, and ethical issues of technology and disaster preparedness and recovery
- Social implications of usability
- Impact of the changing environment of scholarly publishing
- Environmental, health, safety, and peace-related implications of technology;
- Social, economic, and ethical issues involving energy, information, and telecommunications technologies
- History of technology
- System analysis in public policy decisions
- Research methods for technology-policy analysis

Proposals for papers or panels are also welcome on other topics associated with the social issues of technology design, creation, construction, implementation, use, and impact.

Submission information and deadlines:

Please submit abstracts of proposed papers or panels to Roberta.Brody@QC.cuny.edu

- Abstracts should not exceed 350 words
- A panel proposal should not exceed 250 words and must include the names and affiliations of the committed participants
- Panel and paper proposals due: January 4, 2006
- Notification of acceptance: February 1, 2006
- Final papers due for proceedings: April 5, 2006

Venue Information

Queens College is one of eleven senior colleges within the City University of New York, the largest urban university in the United States. It is conveniently located close to La Guardia Airport. Information about nearby hotel accommodations and travel instructions will be posted to the conference website in November 2005.

For further information visit:

www.ieee.org/ssit

or contact Dr. Roberta Brody, Associate Professor, Queens College:
Roberta.Brody@QC.cuny.edu.